

Metzeler revolutionised the knobbly tyre segment with the Metzeler Karoo 3. It's considered by many to be the first tyre of its kind that provides acceptable levels of grip on tarmac as well as reasonable grip in the rain. The secret lies in the silica based tread and the distinctive tread pattern that pulls water away from the contact patch. The tyre carcass is rigid and especially off-road rider feedback comes close to being fantastic. As is expected from a knobbly tyre, mileage is low at around 4000-7000km. This tyre compares with the Anlas Capra X and is fantastic on hard/loose gravel, sand and mud.
